2. Background and rationale

The Tunisian Institute for Peace and Conflict Studies (TIPCS) is a Tunisian non-profit association governed by Decree-Law 2011-88 on associations, with its headquarters in Monastir, Tunisia. It is a research and practice institute (a think-do tank) working on conflict transformation, youth, environment and climate, migration, gender, digital peace and governance.

TIPCS country office in Algiers, Algeria. The Country Office Coordinator coordinates TIPCS programmes and partnerships in Algeria and reports to headquarters in Monastir. TIPCS works with its country offices in the Mediterranean, in Africa and in the Middle East.

Country context. Arabic and Tamazight are the official languages of Algeria, and French is widely used in higher education and professional life. The coordinator would normally work in Arabic and French, with English useful for international partners. Regional focus: the Maghreb and the western Mediterranean, in liaison with the other TIPCS offices in North Africa.

Any appointment depends on the Board's approval and on the legal requirements of the host country, to be confirmed by TIPCS counsel (see section 11). TIPCS promises no appointment.

3. Objectives and expected outcomes

The coordinator's purpose is to coordinate programmes and partnerships in Algeria on behalf of TIPCS and to report to headquarters. Expected outcomes over the first twelve months, if the appointment is approved:

- A short, evidence-based mapping of civil-society, academic and institutional actors in Algeria relevant to TIPCS themes, with due-diligence notes prepared for headquarters.
- A first work plan for the office, aligned with the TIPCS strategic plan and agreed by headquarters, with indicators and a calendar.
- Partnership proposals prepared with headquarters; no partnership exists until a written agreement is signed by TIPCS's authorised signatories.
- Regular, accurate reports to headquarters on activities, risks, spending proposals and lessons learned.
- Participation of the country office in the TIPCS Academy, research and publications work, where agreed.

4. Role and responsibilities

The Country Office Coordinator works under the direction of TIPCS headquarters in Monastir. The role coordinates; it does not replace the Board or the executive administration.

- Coordinate programme activities in Algeria that headquarters has approved: planning, logistics, partner liaison, monitoring and reporting.
- Identify and prepare partnerships, applying the TIPCS partnership and due-diligence policy and the sanctions and due-diligence policy before any engagement.
- Support TIPCS counsel and headquarters in the steps needed to establish and maintain the office lawfully in the host country.
- Represent TIPCS in meetings only within a written mandate; make no public statement on behalf of TIPCS without headquarters' approval.
- Prepare budget proposals and activity reports in the formats set by headquarters; keep records and supporting documents.
- Apply the TIPCS safeguarding, whistleblowing, conflicts-of-interest, anti-fraud and research-ethics policies in all work.
- Respect the limits of the role: the coordinator does not sign for TIPCS, open bank accounts, hire staff or commit funds unless a written delegation says so; spending needs three different signatures under TIPCS rules.

Period (if the appointment is approved)	Indicative work
Months 1 to 3	Onboarding at headquarters (remote or in Monastir); legal and administrative groundwork with counsel; mapping of actors; draft work plan
Months 4 to 6	Work plan approved by headquarters; first partner discussions under due diligence; first reporting cycle

Period (if the appointment is approved)	Indicative work
Months 7 to 12	Delivery of approved activities; second reporting cycle; review of the office with headquarters and the Board

5. Eligibility

- Adults only: 18 years or older.
- Demonstrated experience of coordinating programmes or projects and working with partners, in civil society, research, education, public-interest or international cooperation settings.
- Working command of the languages needed for the work in Algeria (see section 2), plus professional English, French or Arabic for reporting to headquarters.
- Residence in Algiers or the ability to be based there. The right to live and work in Algeria is the applicant's own responsibility: TIPCS promises no visa, residence permit or work authorisation and does not sponsor any.
- Commitment to TIPCS's non-partisan, politically neutral approach, and a declaration of any role in a political party, public office or other activity that could create a conflict of interest.
- No prior relationship with TIPCS is required.

6. Application package and how to apply

Applying always starts with a TIPCS account. Create or open your account at www.tipcs.org (/members/apply), choose this call, and complete the application form. Applications are read by people, not selected automatically.

- A short motivation in the form (up to 800 characters): why this role, and what you would do in the first six months.
- A link (https://) to your CV (maximum three pages) and, if you wish, to a relevant work sample. Make sure TIPCS can open the link.
- The names of two professional referees may be requested later, only from shortlisted candidates and with their consent.
- Proof of identity, qualifications or work rights is requested only from shortlisted candidates, never at first application.
- Do not send sensitive personal data, and no criminal-record or health data. TIPCS does not request them in this call.

7. Selection criteria, process and timeline

Process: (1) eligibility check; (2) scoring of each application against the criteria by at least two reviewers; (3) interviews with a panel for the best-scoring candidates; (4) a reasoned recommendation to the President, who submits it to the Board; (5) the Board decides, subject to the legal requirements of the host country as confirmed by counsel.

Reviewers declare any conflict of interest and step back from the file. Selection is based on merit and applies no discrimination on grounds of sex, origin, belief or disability.

Timeline: applications are reviewed on a rolling basis; there is no fixed date. TIPCS tells each applicant the stage reached through their TIPCS account and by email. The process can be paused or closed at any time.

8. Funding and support

This call states no amount. Funding for the coordinator's role has not been secured, and no funder has pledged support. The Board will set the terms, including any remuneration or costs, with funders and only if the appointment is approved: [amount to be set by the Board with funders].

Funding architecture (to be confirmed): sources sought are institutional and project funders and partners, all to be approached; cost categories are the coordinator's agreed terms, office or shared-workspace costs, travel, and legal and accounting advice in the host country; in-kind support from headquarters includes onboarding, templates, supervision and access to the TIPCS Hub, the internal platform for approvals and records.

TIPCS follows the rules of its funders and Tunisian rules on accounts, audit and funding transparency. Spending needs three different signatures.

9. Safeguarding, conduct and integrity

TIPCS applies zero tolerance to abuse, exploitation, harassment and fraud. The coordinator is bound by the TIPCS Safeguarding, Whistleblowing and complaints, Conflicts of interest, Anti-fraud and integrity, and Sanctions and due diligence policies, as published on /policies.

The coordinator is never alone with a person under 18 or in a vulnerable situation in a TIPCS activity, and never takes photographs of minors. Concerns can be sent in confidence to Contact@tipcs.org with the subject "CONFIDENTIAL – Concern"; reporting in good faith is protected under TIPCS policy and Law 2017-10 on reporting corruption and protecting whistleblowers.

10. Data protection

Controller: TIPCS, Monastir, Tunisia. Purpose: to assess applications to this call and, where relevant, to prepare an agreement. TIPCS handles personal data under Organic Law 2004-63 on the protection of personal data; its declaration to the INPDP (Instance nationale de protection des données personnelles) is in progress. Check the current text of the law before relying on this summary.

You may ask to see, correct or object to the use of your data, or ask for it to be removed, by writing to Contact@tipcs.org. You may complain to the INPDP (www.inpdp.nat.tn). Access is limited to the selection team. Data is kept only as long as the selection needs and as set in the TIPCS recruitment policy (draft for Board ratification). Any transfer abroad, for example to a tool hosted outside Tunisia, is checked against Law 2004-63 first.

TIPCS does not ask for criminal-record or health data in this call, and asks you not to send any.

11. Legal basis in the host country (for TIPCS counsel)

TIPCS is a Tunisian association. The legal form that an office or a coordinator's activity can take in Algeria (for example a registered branch, a representation, work through a local partner or home-based coordination) has not been decided. The conditions for foreign associations, the form of appointment (service agreement or employment), taxation, social security, work and residence authorisation, banking, funding rules and any sanctions or export-control checks that apply are all to be confirmed by TIPCS counsel for Algeria before any appointment. No host-country law is cited in this call because none has been verified.

On the Tunisian side, TIPCS's activity abroad remains subject to Decree-Law 2011-88 on associations, to the transparency rules on funding and accounts that apply to it, and to its own policies. Check the current texts: a reform of the associations decree has been discussed publicly.

12. What this call does not promise

This call does not promise an appointment, a job, a contract, a visa, a residence or work permit, a salary or any sum, a diploma or certificate, or any particular term or location of work. TIPCS does not promise that the legal requirements of Algeria are already met. No commitment exists until an individual written agreement is signed by TIPCS's authorised signatories after the Board's approval. TIPCS may change, suspend or close this call, and does not reimburse the costs of applying. A shortlist or an interview is not an offer.

13. Risks and mitigation

Reputation and neutrality	Written mandate; no public statement without headquarters' approval; due diligence on every partner
